Message from Campus Principals

Hello everyone

We started Study Hall last week at the Uni Campus for Year 12 students. Study Hall is an area taken from the library space that is designated for our Year 12 students to study in a very quiet environment during free periods. We saw this working at various other schools we visited earlier in the year and heard from both students and staff who said that it helped them with their study progress. We certainly hope that the same occurs here. Its encouraging that many students have already commented on their ability to study quietly without distraction now that Study Hall has started. New furniture has been provided with individual corrals being very popular amongst many of the students. Study Hall is monitored by a new appointment to the campus, Dianne Zomer, who is in charge of the running and monitoring of attendance for all students.

Non-ATAR Information Session

The Australian Tertiary Admission Rank (ATAR) is one of the critical measures that is used by universities when they are selecting students. Depending on the course and the university it may not be the only measure that is used. Entry to some university courses can be done without an ATAR score but this method of entry often lengthens the time taken to complete the course.

Year 12 VCE students who are thinking about going non-ATAR will be meeting with the VCE coordinator and advocates to receive information about the non-ATAR process for 2018. Students not interested in going to university may decide that they do not need an ATAR score. That is fine and students can discuss this option with advocates. However it is important to remember that people have been known to change their mind and reversing a non-ATAR option can be difficult to do successfully.

College Review

Kurnai College will be undertaking its review over the next few weeks. As part of this review process the opinions of staff, students and parents/guardians will be called for. This process will involve the reviewer asking for opinions about the college from participants to gauge how well the college has performed over the life of the previous 4 year strategic plan and what to concentrate on in the next strategic plan.

If you would like to be involved please contact the Uni Campus on 5132 3800 to be added to the list. We would love to hear your views.

In Literacy, we wrote and illustrated children's books. We did this so we could read them to the kids at the Yallourn North kinder where we have been fixing up the gardens. The stories varied from pets to motor bikes and dogs. The children enjoyed hearing all the stories and now have extra books in their library.

Design Tech Students Complete Semester 1 Products

The design technology students worked hard right through to the end of the term to complete their self-designed products. Tayah demonstrated her talent and creativity when she designed and constructed her Music Book Storage Table. Tayah used a combination of plantation grown Pine and recycled Jarrah to produce her piece.

Patrick and Jack worked together to design and create a Bedside Table each. The boys enjoyed the challenge of making their products and they are very happy with their final products.

Kayla made a beautiful serving tray with fold out legs.

Cooper's enjoyment of Formula 1 racing cars was the driving force behind his creation. Cooper plans to set up a gaming console and screen on his race car for the ultimate gaming experience.

Amber wants to be able to store her shoes more neatly so she designed and created a storage chest with individual compartments to house her shoes. She made the chest so it will fit inside her wardrobe.

Dylan needs compartments to store items so he designed and produced TV cabinets for his individual needs. Dylan is shown here finishing his cabinet in a clear varnish finish. I am sure you'll agree that all the students have created some magnificent products and I as their teacher am extremely proud of their efforts.

We want our parents to tell us what they think!

Our school is conducting a survey to find out what parents think of our school. The Parent Opinion Survey is an annual survey offered by the Department of Education and Training that is conducted amongst a sample of randomly selected parents. It is designed to assist schools in gaining an understanding of parents' perceptions of school climate, student behaviour and student engagement. Our school will use the survey results to help inform and direct future school planning and improvement strategies.

Approximately 30 per cent of parents will be invited to participate in this year's survey. Parents will be chosen randomly and will be mailed further details if selected. All responses to the survey are anonymous. This year the Parent Opinion Survey will be conducted from Monday 23rd July to Sunday 26th August.

The survey will be conducted online, only takes 10-15 minutes to complete, and can be accessed at any convenient time within the fieldwork period on desktop computers, laptops, tablets or smartphones. The online survey will be available in a range of languages other than English. These include: Arabic, Vietnamese, Mandarin, Chin (hakha), Hindi, Japanese, Somali, Turkish, Punjabi and Greek.

The survey results will be reported back to the school at the end of September.

A reminder to call our ABSENCE HOTLINE 5132 3711 preferably before 9am if your child is not going to be at school.
This will ensure your child's absence is recorded correctly and you don't receive a phone call from our office

Top Tips to get the most out of your Open Day Visits

With the Open Day season approaching, it can make your tours less overwhelming if you have an understanding of what to expect and what you intend to see, do and explore on campus.

Create your open day shortlist

Do you know which courses you would like to apply for? If so, what are the entry requirements? Will the course(s) provide you with the necessary skills and qualifications you will need for your chosen career pathway? Have you considered each institution's location, transport, accommodation? These are questions that will help you build your shortlist.

Get an Open Day Guide from the institution's website before you attend their open day. This will provide you with relevant information and when sessions are scheduled.

Register

It is important to register for an open day as this ensures you will receive all the latest information you may need. There may also be separate events or information sessions related to your course that you can attend.

Have a plan for each open day

Allow sufficient time for your visit, two hours or so would be advisable as it will give you the time to really experience each campus and scope out the place. Formulate a list of questions before your visit. You can ask things like:

- Does your course include an industry based learning (IBL) or work integrated learning (WIL) program? (Note: IBL and WIL can assist with gaining employment after study and are a feature of some courses and institutions)
- Does your university have international study opportunities?
- What is the student support like? E.g. online, tutors.
- What's the student experience like for undergraduates?
- What sort of resources are available to students? Library, gym etc.

Explore the campus

Check out the environment where you will study; will you be happy there for three plus years? Look at the facilities offered at each institution, particularly if you are considering a course where facilities available will be an important consideration (eg sporting, laboratories, etc). Ask your questions while speaking to staff and current students about the courses which interest you.

Career News Contd..

Check out clubs and societies on offer at each campus, collect information/brochures!

Tour the accommodation

If you're planning on moving to a new city to study, be sure to tour the accommodation if you can. Many universities offer on-campus accommodation which is important to book early.

Review your options

Review your notes and experiences. Ask yourself which institutions you'd like to re-visit and let that help you decide what your preferences are. Then chat with your parents or close family members, these are the people who want the best for you and are there to support you. Encourage them to help you and to ask the right questions. Goodluck!

Remember:

- If you're short on time during your open day visits, prioritise the parts of campus and the buildings or facilities you'll be most likely to use. For example, if you're interested in studying science, go to the labs, check out the equipment, and see if they match your expectations.
- Also consider a rural campus, ATAR's are often lower at rural campuses and they can offer other advantages (eg smaller classes).

Career Focus: Lawyer

Lawyers provide advice, write documents and conduct negotiations on legal matters, and may represent clients in court and tribunal proceedings. They are described as solicitors or barristers, depending on the work they do.

Lawyers undertake a range of tasks including:

- Interviewing clients to determine the nature of problems and recommend the appropriate legal action
- Prepare cases for court by conducting investigations, undertaking research, arranging witness preparation and attendance, and giving notice of court actions.
- Represent clients in court
- Manage conveyancing and other property matters by preparing contracts of sale, mortgage documents, lease documents and other documents relating to the transfer of land and buildings
- Prepare and critically review contracts between parties
- Prepare wills
- Provide advice on family law and trusts
- Act as trustee or guardian
- Act as executor of clients' wills.

The four specialisations in law are:

- Barrister – provides legal advice and drafts
- Judge – presides over civil and criminal proceedings in courts of law, making sure that trials are run fairly, according to the rules of law and evidence
- Magistrate – hears criminal matters to determine whether defendants will be committed for trial, and judge's criminal offences without a jury
- Solicitor – may specialise in areas such as property, probate, worker's compensation, family law, personal injuries litigation, commercial law or criminal law.

Career News Contd..

The distinction between solicitors and barristers varies from state to state. In NSW, Victoria and Queensland, lawyers practice as either a solicitor or a barrister. In the ACT, the NT, SA, Tasmania and WA, the work of barristers and solicitors is usually combined, with many lawyers describing themselves as a 'barrister and solicitor'.

To consider law, it is helpful to have integrity and be of good character, have good oral and written communication skills, be able to understand, analyse and use facts quickly and logically, be able to work under pressure and deal with a variety of people. To become a lawyer, you usually have to complete a degree at university. To get into these courses you usually need to gain your VCE with English. Students are often advised to undertake a combined degree course that leads to two degrees. The prerequisite subjects required for entry into these combined courses depend on the non-law component of the combined course.

To work as a lawyer in Australia, you must obtain a Local Practising Certificate. To be granted a certificate, further study and an approved practical training course after the completion of a law degree is required. On completion of the required academic and practical legal training, you may apply to the Supreme Court for admission as a lawyer. To be eligible for admission, you must satisfy the requirements of the legal board of Victoria. Qualified legal practitioners may undertake further study to obtain a barrister's practicing certificate to become a barrister. For further information on post-degree requirements, contact the Law Institute of Victoria (www.liv.asn.au)
